

INTRODUCTION: 65349 is a medium gray, coherent, glassy impact melt collected as a rake sample (Fig. 1). It is somewhat vesicular with interlocking plagioclase laths common on the vesicle walls. Clasts and zap pits are rare.

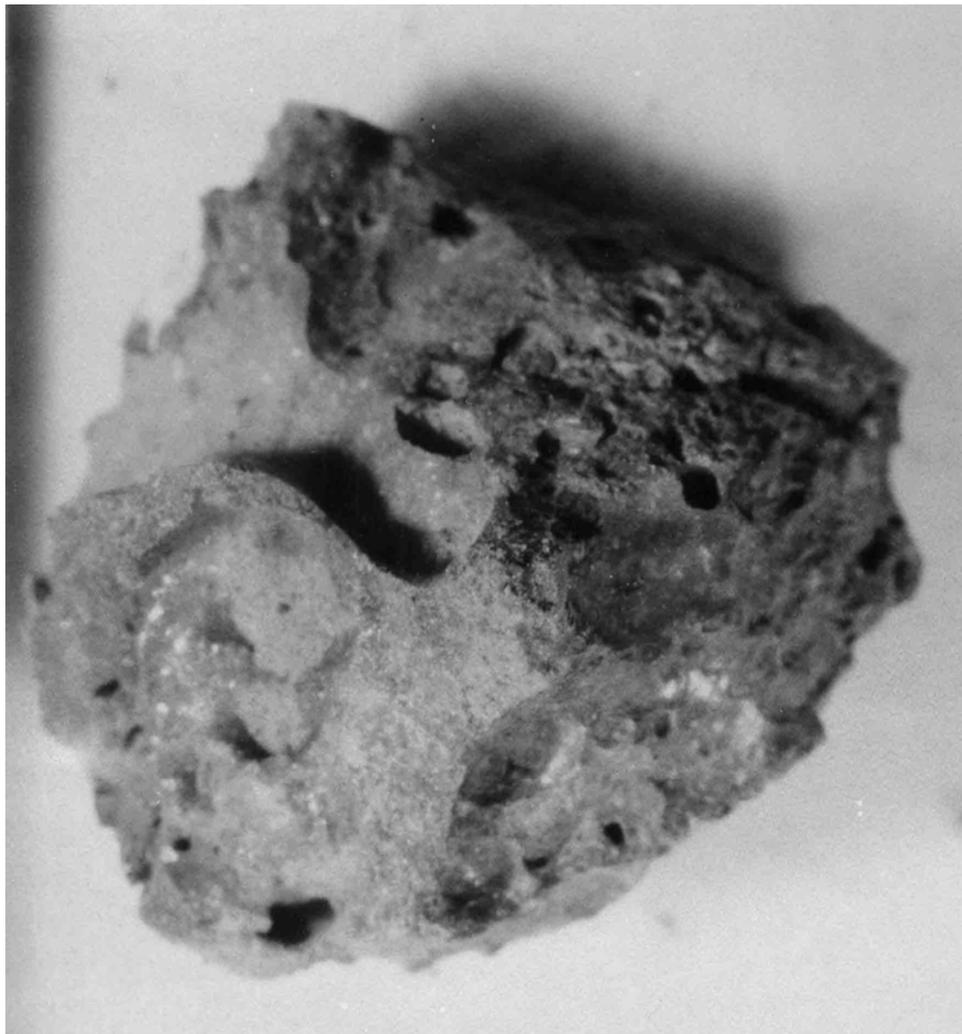

FIGURE 1. Sample is about 2 cm across.